Cequent Opens Master Distribution Center in Texas

DALLAS, Texas. – Cequent Performance Products (CPP), the leading manufacturer of quality towing products, recently expanded operations in Dallas, Texas. The new state-of-the-art distribution center began shipping in May of this year and employs more than 40 people.

The 24/7 operation, with in-house Customer Service Representatives, can seamlessly provide service to either coast in the United States and to Canada in as few as two days. It will serve CPP as its principal warehouse for redistribution throughout the Western hemisphere.

"The new facility is designed to handle traffic to our customers in both North and South America," says John Walsh, VP of Sales & Marketing at Cequent. "We are excited to have its efficiency and strategic location as we continue to expand our products and customer base in the years to come."

The facility has over 180,000 square feet and dock doors to accommodate up to 34 semi-trucks simultaneously. It uses a radio frequency tracking system for accurate order selection.

The energy efficient building opened on May 20th when the first package shipped. Craig Stull, who has been with the company since October 1999, is the facility manager. The distribution center located at 4445 Rock Quarry, Dallas, TX 75211.
